FIGHT MAY ARISE OVER A LOCATION

Richland Township Patrons May Contest Establishment of School at Hawkin's Corner

PROCEEDINGS ARE STARTED

Petitioners, More Than Third of Patrons, Set Out Location—Richland, Only Town, Wants It

There were well defined rumors today that a dispute might arise over the location of the proposed consolidated school building in Richland township. The argument does not seem to revolve about the building of a new school house, but whether it should be located at Hawkin's Corner, which is said to be in the center of the township, or Richland, the only town in the township.

Fred Goddard, township trustee, states in a legal notice addressed to the citizens and school patrons of the township that, in compliance with the petition for the new building, he has determined to locate the proposed consolidated school at the southwest corner of the cross roads at Hawkin's Corner.

If a remonstrance is filed against locating the building at that point, it will probably have some effect because the school law provides that when a township trustee proceeds to erect a consolidated school, he needs to be petitioned by only one-third of the school patrons in the township, one-third being determined by the number enumerated at the last enumeration.

A law passed by the last legislature providing that two or more townships might join in the erection or establishment of a consolidated school, says that the township trustee of each township affected must be petitioned by a majority of the school patrons. But this does not apply in the case of a consolidated school in one township, when a petition signed by one-third of the patrons is all that is required for the trustee to start proceedings.

There are at present three district schools in Richland township. They are located at Richland, Neff's Corner and Freemans. It is natural that Richland should want the consolidated school building since it is the only town in the township, and from all indications, they will contest that part of the petition which requests the township trustee to establish the school at Hawkin's Corner.

When the consolidated school is erected in Richland township, Rush county will have fewer one-room or district schools than any county in the state, providing none of the one-room schools in Marion and Randolph counties, each of which have nine now, are abandoned in the meantime.

Rush county now ranks fourth in country school consolidation in the state having abandoned thirty-three one-room buildings in the last thirty years, which makes its percent of abandonment 88.2. With the abandonment of these one-room buildings in Richland township, Rush county will take third place in the state if Marion makes no changes. Randolph county ranks first with 92.1 percent, Montgomery second with 91.1 percent and Marion third with 90.8 percent.

EXTENSION FUND DRIVE

Oxford, Ohio, Mar. 27.—Miami University is making extensive preparations for a $1,000,000 extension fund drive which will be launched in a few days. The rapid growth of the University calls for extensions which the state does not feel able to support at this time and the alumni and friends of the institution will be asked to donate the necessary funds for those improvements.

TWO STEAMERS LIST

Paris, Mar. 27.—A dirigible today sought trace of two French steamers believed to have sunk with 142 passengers on board while en route from Algeria to Marseilles. A wireless message from a tug stated that the wreckage believed to be that of the steamers was discovered.

TO PREVENT USELESS WASTE

Senate Likely to Act on Primary
Expenditures After Borah Speech

(By United Press.)

Washington, Mar. 27.—Startling developments have grown out of the alleged campaign fraud scandal after Senator Borah's speech on the spending of useless money by presidential candidates in their campaigns.

Indications were that the senate might take action to prevent the lavish use of money in the coming campaign.

Those interested in pressing the matter are not exactly sure of the nature of what they intend to do.

PLOWING WILL START NEXT WEEK

Already Started in Many Sections of County Because the Signs of Spring Are Here

FAIRLY EARLY BEGINNING

Ground, According to All Accounts, is Turning Smoothly—Shortage of Help Not Serious

Next week will see plowing under way in all parts of the county. As early as two weeks ago, there were a few instances where farmers had started their spring "breaking," but they were rare because no good farmer wishes to get ahead of the season and suffer loss from it later.

The frost is out of the ground, the grass has begun to take on the greenish tint, which is one of the sure signs of springtime, and the date on the calendar is one at which years ago, the industrious farmer thought his plowing ought to be well along. The impression that potatoes ought to be planted in March is by no means dead among the farmers and truck gardeners of the county, and many an elderly man, who tilled the soil in his youth and middle age, grows restless if the putting forth of the buckeye leaves catches him without at least three-fourths of his corn land turned over and fairly conditioned for the planter.

Touching all this it is fully believed that the actual weather, not the insensate calendar, must govern. There have been Marches, of late years, when potatoes planted at almost any time in the month would have done no good. And now and again the buckeye leaves beat the most active farmer to the plowing. And even under these supposed handicaps, many a rich crop has been grown. But the fact remains that the wisest farmer is he who takes the springtime by the forelock, and if the last few days be not spring days, then the senses of men are in error and they know not what they do.

The ground, according to all accounts, is turning smoothly and well. The shortage of help, of which some rumors were heard a few weeks ago, seems not to be general in the county or serious anywhere. The horsepower necessary for the cropping work appears sufficient, and the relatively early start is taken as a fortunate sign. The rural season in short, is making a wholly auspicious start, and the signs now discernible are all in favor of a reasonably early planting.

Once again it is believed to be worth while to say to the farmer that the fact that the ears of his seed corn look strong and sound is not enough. To plant impotent seed is to waste both precious time and irrecoverable opportunity. Testing of seed corn is not much trouble, and failure to test it is the taking of a great and unreasonable risk—a risk which it is profoundly hoped, for his own sake that no farmer in the county will run this season. Corn is too high, hogs are too high, cattle are too high and county land is worth too much to be the subject of a frivolous bet—the blind bet that untested corn, which may as easily be bad as good, will germinate and grow.

ASSESSORS MEET WITH PRIEST TODAY

Township Officials and Deputies
Confer With County Assessor
Regarding Progress of Work

TO MAKE A MONTHLY REPORT

Assessors Provide Figures on Average Values For Four Weeks—
Reference to Household List

Township assessors and their deputies conferred with Earl Priest, county assessor, today, regarding the progress of the assessing work during the first month of the period which ended today. The assessors were to report the average values on seven different items of personal property, in each township, for the first four weeks, and the report will be transmitted to the state board of tax commissioners.

The state board requires that a report on the average assessments of these articles be forwarded every two weeks so that the board may keep a check on the work in each county.

The report for the first two weeks showed the average value of household goods in all of the townships ranged from $130 to $350. The average value of automobiles lay between $250 and $650. It should be remembered that all kinds of articles are included in striking the average. Some taxpayers may own automobiles which have been assessed much higher than the maximum average, but on the other hand there are automobiles which are taken at less than the minimum.

The county assessor again called attention today to the instructions received from the state board of tax commissioners regarding the use of the supplemental lists of household goods and farm implements, on the fourth page of the personal property schedule. These instructions will not change much the policy which the assessors of Rush county have been using.

The state board, in the instructions, places the responsibility on the assessor, and points out that it is his duty to take all articles on the personal property schedule at their true cash value. The board does not say it is unnecessary to compel taxpayers to fill out these supplemental lists, but does make this observation:

"If the assessor agrees with the tax payer and he is informed of the facts and knows the amount agreed upon to be the true cash value then he may use discretion, as the lists were prepared and intended to aid him and the taxpayer, but the responsibility of the assessor cannot be shifted to the taxpayer."

TAGGART ACCEPTS NOMINATION TODAY

Consents to Become Democratic Candidate For Senator—Bosse
Elected State Chairman

SELECTION MADE AT CAUCUS

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 27.—Tom Taggart of French Lick was unanimously nominated today by the state democratic central committee as the candidate for United States senator. Taggart has repeatedly refused the nomination and withdrew his name after it had been entered in the state primary.

Benjamin Bosse, mayor of Evansville was elected chairman of the state committee.

Leading democrats at a democratic caucus last night decided on Bosse as their choice to head the party during the coming campaign and election.

A. Sallee, the present chairman of the state, will go to San Francisco to make the preliminary plans for the national convention to be held there.

It was said that Mayor Bosse wished to remain in Evansville and have a lieutenant as his representative at the state headquarters here. This met with some objection from some of the democrats.

IS WELCOME NEWS TO PARENTS HERE

Agreement Between French and U.
S. Representatives Assures Return of American Dead

MARKS END LONG AGITATION.

All Bodies, Whether Within or Behind the Battle Zone, May Be Removed Under Agreement

Rush county fathers and mothers whose sons gave their lives for their country during the war, have read with great joy the recent announcement from Washington that an agreement has finally been reached between the French and United States government representatives to remove the American dead in France to this country.

Agitation for such a step has been under way ever since the war ended but there has been some objection from France because of the sanitary and moral effect of the removal of the bodies on the French people, who are already beset by doubts and troubles in their efforts to forget the horrors of war. It is said that France never doubted America's right to claim its own and charges that France planned to hold the bodies to get the benefit of the tourist trade, was unfounded.

The bodies will be removed to the United States just as soon as arrangements can be completed. The United States congress will be called on to appropriate $20,000,000 to pay the expense of the enterprise. The agreement yet awaits the sanction of the French government. It provides all bodies, whether within or behind the battle zone, may be removed.

A dispatch from Washington says the conference decision as transmitted by the American ambassador, has been sent to Chairman Porter of the house foreign committee, by the state department.

"This practically ends the controversy between the United States and France over the return of our soldier dead," said Mr. Porter. "I am confident the French commission did not make the recommendation without the full knowledge of Premier Millerand, with whom we carried on all our negotiations."

The conference agreed unanimously in its first session to recommend to the French government that the bodies of all the American dead, wherever buried in France, whether in the zone of the armies or in the zone of interior, be eligible for return to the United States, and that at such a time as the regions where they lie are reached in the course of its operations by the American

FRENCH GIFT DRIVE STARTS ON MONDAY

$45.00 is to be Raised Among School
Children to go on Monument Fund
For France

SCHOOL HEADS MEET TODAY.

The school principals of the various Rush county schools were here today in conference with county school superintendent, C. M. George, when many important matters were taken up for discussion. The meeting was held this afternoon in the superintendent's office in the court house and was well attended.

One of the matters that was to be discussed was the campaign which will be held among the school children in Indiana during the week of March 29, when this state is expected to raise its share in the drive known as "America's Gift to France."

It is the plan now to collect $350,000 in donations from one cent to ten cents among school children in this country for the purpose of building a monument in France commemorating the battle of the Marne. If this amount Rush county's quota is $45.00 and is to be raised from the small donations of the school children. Plans for raising this amount were discussed this afternoon.

LOCAL FARMERS TO MEET

Session Announced For Wednesday
Evening at Webb School

A meeting of the Rushville Township Farmers' association will be held at the Webb school house southwest of Rushville next Wednesday evening, March 31, at seven-thirty o'clock.

In issuing the call for the meeting, Will L. Brown, township president, said that the session would be for the purpose of considering some business matters which have previously been discussed, and also to take up some new business. On account of the importance of the meeting, Mr. Brown urges that every farmer in Rushville township be in attendance.

FOUR DIRECTORS TO BE RE-ELECTED

Three Members of Rushville Co-operative Telephone Company Are Out For Re-Election

TWO SEEK THE OTHER PLACE.

Annual Agitation For Extension of Rushville System Throughout
The County is Renewed

The terms of four directors of the Rushville Co-operative Telephone company will expire at the end of the company's fiscal year, April first, and their successors will be elected at the annual meeting to be held at the court house assembly room Friday evening, April 9, at seven-thirty o'clock, when the annual reports of the officers will be heard.

The four directors whose terms will expire are J. M. Amos, R. F. Scudder, Vern W. Norris and Dr. Will S. Coleman. The first three directors are candidates for re-election and Dr. Frank Green and J. T. Arbuckle are each seeking the place on the board made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Coleman, who has moved to Miami, Florida for permanent residence.

There has been some agitation in some quarters for changing the fiscal year of the telephone company to the calendar year so that the election can be held early in the year and plans made for the year's improvements.

As conditions are now, nothing can be planned for the summer's work until after the annual election, which comes at a time when the summer's work should be well under way. A board of directors, part of whom will retire on the first of April, does not feel like making any extensive arrangements for improvements during the season when outdoor work is practicable, before the fiscal year begins.

The establishment of the automobile exchange at Glenwood last year is a case in point. The work could not be started until late in the spring, with the result that the exchange could not be completed before bad weather began in the fall.

Every year, about this time, the discussion of the extension of the Rushville system throughout the county is renewed. The failure of the Rushville company to supply free service all over the county has always been regarded as one of the great drawbacks here. It has placed Rushville at a disadvantage in comparison with other county seats in this section of the state.

It was pointed out today that the present board of directors is in sympathy with the propaganda to extend the Rushville system, but on the other hand the extension has been very slow. The board has always been guided by a very conservative policy and has generally had the money whenever any extensions were made.

Advocates of the board's present policy refer to the establishment of the Glenwood exchange as evidence that the board is in favor of extensions. At the same time, others recall that many farmers living only a few miles north of Rushville have to pay a toll to talk to a Rushville system subscriber.

GERMAN REQUEST REFUSED BY ALLIES

Entente Denies Berlin Government
Permission to Send Troops
To Rhine Province

ASKS GUARANTEE OF RETURN

Germans Refuse to Allow Allies to Occupy The Cities of Frankfort and Darmstadt.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Mar. 27.—The allies today refused permission to the German government to send 75,000 German government troops into the Rhine province to restore order there.

The allied decision followed, the German refusal to allow the entente forces to occupy the cities of Frankfurt and Darmstadt as a guarantee that any troops sent to the Ruhr district to down communist forces there would be withdrawn as soon as order was restored.

The allied troops reported that they could not risk the extensive German occupation of this district. They were willing to aid the Berlin government and allow them to send as many troops as necessary but only if Germany would allow the allies to occupy the cities of Frankfurt and Darmstadt as a guarantee. This was refused by the Germans and the allies refused to allow the entrance of 75,000 troops.

To Announce New Cabinet

Berlin, Mar. 27.—Announcement of the following personnel of the new German cabinet will be made according to the Vowmaerts: Premier, Herman Mueller; foreign affairs, Herr Landsberg, or a democrat; finance, Captain Fischer Cuno; treasury, Dr. Wirth; justice, Ludwig Haas; interior, Herr Koch; defense, Herr Gessler; economics, Gustav Bauer; food, Herr Hermet, a Centrist; labor, Dr. Schmidt; transport, Dr. Bell; posts and telegraphs, Herr Giesberts; minister without portfolio, Edouard David.

Herr von Graefe, former Prussian undersecretary for national welfare has undertaken the task of forming a Prussian ministry, according to the Tageblat.

Communists in Saxony

Chemnitz, Saxony, Mar. 27.—Communists are firmly entrenched in control here and are prepared to resist attacks by government troops, which may be sent against the city in the event the troops obtain control, a general strike may again be called. Heinrich Brandler chairman of the executive committee of the workers, declared today his followers were closely co-operating with workers in the Ruhr valley.

The executive committee has sent a number of demands to the Saxon government. It asked that the siege of Leipzig be raised; that officers of the reichswehr be dismissed; that Dresden students and volunteers be disarmed; that miners be armed and placed under control of the executive committee of workers; that the government be remodeled so that workmen could have guarantees and that a new Saxon legislature be elected.

No sign of the workers' guards was seen when the correspondent entered Chemnitz.

STOCK SUBSCRIBED FOR HOG PRICES REGAIN A NEW BANK AT MILROY YESTERDAY'S LOSSES

Will be Capitalized at $50,000 But Not Merged With State Bank Already in the Town.

CONTRARY TO FIRST PLANS.

A new national bank will soon be established in Milroy, with a capital stock of $50,000, instead of $100,000, as originally planned, it was decided at a meeting of the stockholders recently. Henry Davis, chairman of the committee that canvassed the community for stock, reported that all of the $50,000 had been subscribed, and the committee has quit work.

The Milroy bank, which now exists as a state bank, will not combine with the new bank, as it was thought several weeks ago. A meeting of the stockholders of this bank voted down the proposition of a merger. It is said that many of the stockholders favored a merger. And some of them have purchased stock in the new bank.

Although one or two of the stockholders in the state bank say that there is not sufficient business here for two banks others are said to welcome the new institution on the theory that competition will mean more business for the Milroy bank as well as providing sufficient business for the new national bank.

CHECKS UP THE SEED TESTS

Dr. Gregory of Purdue Inspects Work of County Agent Here

Dr. Gregory, a pathologist in charge of plant disease work at Purdue university, was here yesterday to examine the results and co-operate with D. D. Ball, county agent, who is conducting a seed corn testing plant in the court house. Dr. Gregory checked up the results of the tests made so far, and agreed with County Agent Ball about the extent of the diseased seed corn, and Dr. Gregory urged the farmers to have their seed corn tested before planting, so as to insure a good crop.

COW ADOPTS FAWN

Portland, Ore., March 27. (United Press.)—Anyone who thinks a cow hasn't a strong maternal instinct should take a trip to Multnomah Station, a Portland suburb. For there may be seen a yearling fawn which has been adopted by a cow of A. H. Fordyce, rancher. Fordyce has no idea how the deer came to his place, but does know it journeyed to and from the pasture with its "mother" morning and evening. It is believed the fawn's family was chased out of the woods or killed by hunters and that the fawn came cityward, and, finding a new "mother," decided to stay in town.

WASHINGTONIANS AS PRODUCERS OF FOOD

Striking Example of What May Be Accomplished.

Three Hundred Families in District Supplied Tables With Fresh Vegetables During Summer and Stored Some for Winter.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.
One of the most striking examples of what may be accomplished in food production is that of the Potomac Park home gardens, located in the District of Columbia almost within the shadow of the Washington monument. During the year just closed there were 300 gardens, supervised by the United States department of agriculture, each 40 feet by 100 feet in size, and occupying in all approximately 35 acres. According to reports recently received from the gardeners, and based on actual records, these gardens gave an average return of $84 a garden, or over $25,000 for the 300 gardens. This means that no less than 300 families living in the District of Columbia not only have supplied their tables with fresh vegetables throughout the summer, but stored a considerable supply of food for winter use. In addition, approximately 1,200 people enjoyed outdoor exercise and healthful recreation.

This is but one instance where the city home garden has resulted both in the production of large quantities of food and in providing the people with outdoor life exercise. The need for home gardens will be just as great in 1920 as during the past season. Now is the time for perfect organizations and secure land on which to plant gardens next year.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S NIGHT OBSERVED

Singing of Salvation Army Quartet and Other Numbers Are Features of Revival Service

MEETINGS CLOSE TOMORROW

Last night was young people's night at the Salvation Army revival and a good sized crowd turned out. The singing of the Salvation Army quartet, composed of Miss Mary Curry, Miss Leona Curry, Miss Mable Buchanan and Miss Susie Jenkins was much appreciated, as was the solo by Mrs. Della Bennett.

Evangelist Stewart used for his text, "Where Are Thou." In part he said: "I am glad God has us located. He knows just where we are. We may get our minds off of God but He never leaves us. We ought to be filled with the fullness of God. A lot of empty ears will make a lot of noise, but it takes a full ear to keep the track. God knows right now if you are loaded and doing something for Him or not."

Tomorrow will close the revival. Holiness meeting at 10 a. m.; Company meeting at 2 p. m. At 3:15 there will be a praise meeting and at 7:30 p. m. a big salvation meeting will be held. The evangelist will use for his text, "The Seven Seals." All are invited to attend any or all of these meetings.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffing, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and sniff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

PROFESSOR SUGGESTS GRASSHOPPER DIET

Snow Learned in South Central Africa Something About What is Good to Eat

TURN UP NOSES AT FROG MEAT

(By United Press.)

Corvallis, Ore., March 27.—Ever eat fried grasshoppers?

You're missing a real delicacy, if you don't, according to Frank L. Snow, professor of industrial journalism at the Oregon Agricultural College here.

Snow spent six years in South Central Africa, and it was there that he learned something about what is good to eat.

"After all, what one eats is largely a matter of custom," said Professor Snow. "Many fastidious epicures in this country are willing to pay high prices for froglegs. But down in Africa, the blacks turn up their noses at the idea of eating frog meat."

"Tkonu muschli," they say. (No good.)

"But these natives are particularly fond of grasshoppers. I first indulged in their delicacy when I had been without food for many hours, and they really tasted like more."

SINN FEIN LEADER IS KILLED IN HIS HOME

James McCarty's Murder is Believed to be Revenge of Killing Thrums Policeman

THIRTY MURDERS SINCE JAN. 1

(By United Press.)

Dublin, Mar. 27.—James McCarty prominent Sinn Fein leader at Thrums, was shot and killed in his home today.

Masked men broke into his home and went to his bed room where they shot him. The crime is believed to be in revenge of the murder of a policeman at Thrums recently.

Sinn Fein leaders said that the recent murder was additional proof of their belief that a band of anti-Sinn Fein royalists had been organized to intimidate society.

Military activity was greater than at any time since the rebellion. Military leaders said a total of thirty murders of policemen, soldiers and other governmental representatives had been committed since January 1, 1919.

TO DEDICATE PACIFIC ROAD SEPTEMBER 20

It Will be Possible to Motor From Mexican Border to Canadian Line Over New Highway

MANY YEARS TILL FINISHED

(By United Press.)

Portland, Ore., March 27.—It will be possible to motor from the Mexican border to the Canadian line over the projected Pacific highway early in September, according to officials of the Pacific Highway association.

September 20 has been set as the time for the formal dedication, when ceremonies will be held simultaneously at Blaine, Wash., close to the Canadian frontier; at the Interstate bridge between Portland and Vancouver, Wash., and at San Francisco.

The California link of this highway is the present El Camino Real roadway.

It will probably be years before the Pacific highway shall be entirely paved, but the first big goal of the association will be reached when the long road is passable for motorists, they say, and, to that end, work will be pushed this spring and summer on the "missing links" in Oregon and Washington.

be waived under his oath, as it only permits such discretion as will enable him to ascertain the facts which should be known in order to make correct returns.

It is pointed out in these instructions that the supplemental lists were sent out to aid the assessors because in past years in many parts of the state separate supplemental lists printed on cards have been used. Therefore, the board put these lists on the regular property schedule so "that all shall deal with the subject alike to the end that there shall be equality of assessment with the minimum of error, and that these classes of property shall be returned as all other classes of property at their true cash value."

THAT GIFT TO YOUR CHURCH!

Hundreds of Presbyterians—and others too—when they made out their income tax return were surprised. The amount they had given to church and benevolences during the past year was smaller than they had expected. Some of them had determined that they ought to approach as nearly as possible to giving one-tenth to the Lord's work, and are making extra gifts now.

The books of the mission boards of the Presbyterian Church close March 31. All money pledged through your Presbyterian Church to the general work of the denomination ought to be paid at once.

Your church treasurer should be able to send before the last week of March all the cash promised from your church.

Take an extra offering to church Sunday—and invite your neighbor to go along if he doesn't worship anywhere.

Be ready to make a generous pledge for next year when the time comes.

Give proportionately! Give consecrated dollars!

Any Presbyterian pastor will furnish details.

Amendments by Referendum

Representative Johnson of New York proposes an amendment to the Federal Constitution providing that the question of the ratification of all future amendments to that constitution shall be submitted to popular vote in the various states. This supported, in the future if not at the present time. A referendum on a constitutional amendment by the country at large would be objected to as a departure from the original idea of State sovereignty or free action by states, but a referendum within the lines of each state, such as Mr. Johnson proposes, would not further depart from the original scheme than does the popular election of senators, which was previously a function of legislatures based on the principle of the state as a political unit.

The popular referendum idea, as it has been urged of late years and actually attempted in a few states, is manifestly impracticable as well as undesirable. The people have not the time and too many of them not the needed intelligence to enact all or many of the laws at the polling places. They could not go to the polls every Tuesday and Friday even if this were not too expensive. Representative government must stand because nothing else is feasible. But it is possible and altogether desirable that the people themselves occasionally speak their minds on some great question at the polls, in order that the real sentiment of the majority may be revealed for the guidance of state legislatures and of congress. Direct voting in each State on the question of ratifying a constitutional amendment is a proposition that is supported by every argument that was urged in favor of the popular election of senators.

Russia is apparently handing the world something of a surprise package. The soviet government declines to blow up. Instead it appears to become more strongly entrenched every day. And when we stop to consider that only one person in five in that country can read it is a surprise party indeed. England and France have concluded that it is futile to further oppose the soviet rule. Instead, they will establish commercial relations with them and endeavor to secure a monopoly of trade from that country. America, presumably, will wake up in the course of a few years and take the crumbs that are left. It is our usual way.

Governor Allen of Kansas says the "fair-minded leaders of labor" would admit that "the rights of women and children and the general public to an adequate supply of the bare necessities of life are superior to the right of labor or capital to stop production in the interests of a selfish quarrel." Unfortunately there are people who "admit" and then fail to act accordingly, and in this case, though the fair-minded might admit, the others, as has been shown, are numerous enough to engineer a strike notwithstanding.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger, which is running Hoover on the Republican ticket, climaxes its argument in favor of that progress by saying that the former food administrator "is typically and temperamentally an American; and if there be any better definition of a Republican we do not know it." There might be a more distinctive definition, for something like a hundred million persons are or ought to be typically and temperamentally American.

German ambition for world domination certainly dies hard. A Hohenzollern "prince" recently threw plates at two Frenchmen and a French lady because they did not rise when the band played "Deutschland Uber Alles"—which means the Germans on top of everybody or Germany astride of the world.

Yes, our friends the candidates are all good men and true. But perhaps the white house doesn't want a g. m. and t.

Now, of course, the thirsty can always go on a tear and celebrate their last drunk by keeping sober.

Of course, it is possible that the German revolution was stirred up by the foreign correspondents for the purpose of furnishing copy for a day. But we doubt it.

Sure, the league of nations made the world safe for democracy—that is, for all except those who framed the league.

An Irishman over in Ireland received a cablegram that his sister was dying in St. Luke's hospital in New York City and to come over immediately, so he set sail by the first ship.

Arriving in New York he walked off the boat, and looking all around him and finally sighted an Irish traffic policeman in the middle of the street, and going over to him said: "Excuse me, Sor, I have a cablegram in me pocket that me sister is dying in St. Luke's hospital and I have just come over from Ireland. Can you tell me where St. Luke's hospital is?"

The policeman studied a moment, then shook his head and finally said, "No, I don't now where it is, but I will tell you how to get there."

"You go down this street two blocks, then turn one block to your left, and on the corner Mike Murphy has a saloon; you go in and tell Mike that I sent you and that you have just come over from Ireland, then Mike will shake hands with you and say have a drink? You take the drink. Then Mike will say, 'How is your old mother and father over in Ireland?' And you say, 'they are both well. Then Mike will say, 'how did you like the trip over to America?' And you will say it was fine. Then Mike will say have another drink, and you take the drink and thank Mike for it.

"Then Mike will say, did you see De Valera before you came over? And you say, 'To Hell with De Valera, and when you wake up you will be in St. Luke's Hospital."

LITTLE MAID IN THE "MOON DOOR"
SYMBOL OF THE HOPE OF NEW CHINA

Ginling College, at Nanking, Only Girls' School in Five Provinces With Population of 110,000,000—Interchurch World Movement to Aid Institution.

The way to all things at Ginling lies through the moon door. And through the moon door on the way to wisdom pass and repass every day the 70 Chinese maidens of the "gung-gwan."

The moon door at Ginling is round as the full moon whence it has its name. And the Chinese maiden, as she steps over its high sill, may spread wide her arms and still not touch its rim with the tips of her fingers.

Sometimes across the courtyard is another moon door, and beyond it, like a smaller concentric circle, still another, leading on through that Chinese puzzle of a house, the "gung-gwan," of official residence at Nanking, China, which is now the home of Ginling College for Chinese girls—one of the three women's colleges in all China.

The moon door is but a single feature of the old place. Once inside the high stone walls that inclose it, one is lost in a maze of courts and galleries and covered passages and isolated rooms.

The whole is China, old China and new. The moon doors and the architecture as a whole lend the dignity and the greatness of old China. But the laboratories and dormitories, libraries and studies made from the old rooms of state and, certainly, are modern. Just as the spirit of the Chinese girls who use them is modern; just as the force of America is behind it all, represented by the five American missionary organizations and the American Smith College which maintain Ginling, is modern.

One pushes ajar the halves of a moon door, latticed over paper in plum blossom and honeycomb design, and enters a chemical laboratory set up in a room with 20 windows, each framed in dragon tracery. And from the flagstones of the laboratory floor, often is scraped fungi and mold for use under the microscope.

These are typical contrasts of Ginling College, revealed through the survey of the Chinese field now being made by the Interchurch World movement, which seeks to promote the closer co-operation of Protestant Churches of America in attaining their world aims.

Ginling College, the survey shows, is at the heart of five Chinese provinces with a total population of 110,000,000—and is the only woman's college in that great area. Yet its capacity to receive young Chinese girls is limited by the capacity of the old "gung-gwan," rented since the beginning of the institution, four years ago.

Fund of $500,000.

Ginling owns 37 acres of land on the hills beside the Yangtze river. In the Interchurch World Movement survey of China, there is a budget item of $500,000. It is there to show the Churches of America how they can place upon that land on the hill the library, administration building, recreation buildings, chapel—all that are needed for a modern college. Unless the fund is available by 1921, many young women of China seeking college education must be denied admission to Ginling, because the old "gung-gwan" is too small.

Birds Which Pay
Way in the County

The state department of conservation has prepared a series of sixteen articles on insectivorous birds which combat voracious insect pests that annually collect a tax of many thousands of dollars by destroying fruit and cereal crops. These articles are written for the benefit of farmers so that these friends of the farmers may be protected and allowed to carry on their valuable work.

The wood thrush is the largest of our thrushes except the robin, classified in this family by ornithologists. It is about eight inches long and has a wing extent of about thirteen inches. Their general color is a cinnamon brown, brighter and more russet on the crown and more olive on the tail; beneath, including the sides, white, with the breast and heart-shaped spots of dark brown.

The wood thrush is a migrant. It comes north about the middle of April and the first of May, and returns south about the first of October. Its range extends north from Honduras and the Bermudas through eastern United States to Quebec, and west to Kansas and North Dakota. It winters south from Florida and Texas, and breeds from Georgia and southern Mississippi north through its northern range. It frequents copses, groves of young trees and rocky glens and this is especially so if there is water nearby.

Seventy-two percent of the food of this thrush consists of insects, the greater portion of them being ground-inhabiting worms. Twenty-percent consists of fruits, much of which are wild fruits obtained from their haunts. The song of the thrush is credited by many ornithologists as the most beautiful as compared to a long list of birds.

WILSON'S THIRD TERM
IDEA IS STILL ALIVE

Democrats in Washington Express Dissatisfaction Over Their Presidential Prospects

SOME DIDN'T FAVOR WILSON

Washington, Mar. 27—A revolt against party leadership of President Wilson is forming rapidly among house democrats, resulting from the silence of the president as to his intentions regarding a third term, it was stated in official circles today.

Dissatisfaction apparently is rampant among the democrats because republican candidates are conducting a lively campaign while the democratic campaign plans are in the state of uncertainty since no word has been sent to the party by the white house.

Every day of the uncertainty is an injury to the party, Representative Pitchin, democratic leader of the house, declared today.

Although President Wilson's health indicates he could not stand the campaign necessary for seeking a third term, the belief still persists in congressional circles that he may seek re-election on the ground that it is necessary to save the treaty.

Franklin K. Lane

FRANKLIN K. LANE TO "FOLLOW ON"

Accepts Invitation to Become National Chairman of Salvation Army's Annual Appeal for Funds.

WASHINGTON'S BEST BELOVED
RESTARTING LIFE AT 55.

Former Cabinet Officer Before Entering the Oil Business as an Executive for the Doheny Interests Will Lead His Great Abilities to the Salvant Army's Militant Organization.

Franklin K. Lane, referred to far and wide as "Washington's best loved," is undertaking two notable innovations in an age when most men think of retiring as going to the quiet of private life. One is to "earn enough money to support my family and keep my mind busy," and the other is "to step down from a high place to resume my place among the shirt-sleeve boys and girls of the world."

His history making statements from a man of Mr. Lane's attainments and position in life. And the remarkable part of it all is that he puts the shirt-sleeve matter—the thing about helping his neighbors—before the other thing—making more money in order to be better able to underwrite the Autumn of his life.

Few men reach a higher niche in the affections and confidence of the public mind than has this remarkable man from the West, who was once an editor, then a lawyer and finally a member of the President's cabinet and who withdraws from public life to "earn a better living" after rendering a service to the government the extent and value of which would be impossible to estimate. Still fewer men are called to such responsible places as Franklin K. Lane will now occupy. He will enter the oil business as an executive for the Doheny interests and will be established in New York city for that purpose by April 1. But the rosy prospect of making "a living wage" after several years spent in struggling along on the salary of a cabinet officer has not blinded Mr. Lane to another opportunity—that of striking a few powerful blows on behalf of the "man who is down, but never out."

Franklin K. Lane has accepted an invitation from Commander Evangeline Booth to become the national chairman for the Salvation Army's annual appeal for funds in 1920. He is already on this job, although Wall Street does not greet him as an oil well executive for another month.

"It is a genuine privilege to find opportunity for encouraging a work so direct and practical and so valuable to the masses of the people as the work of the Salvation Army," said Mr. Lane at his office in Washington the other day. "When Commander Miss Booth asked me to take the responsibilities of national chairman for the 1920 appeal of that organization," continued the secretary, "the first thought that flashed across my mind was, How can I spare time for such work when I am entering upon a commercial task of great responsibility?"

"And then there flashed across my mind a vision of the things the Salvation Army does—the help it gives to men and women and little children just when and where they need it most—and I thought to myself that after all there could be no more important thing than this. So I accepted—along with the other job—and I am trusting to the generosity of my new employers to underwrite my action in the matter."

"I believe every right-thinking man and woman in America owes the Salvation Army some of his or her time every year. And I am going to pay my share. I am going to get my shoulder squarely behind the movement for human that can win the hearts and the confidence of the common people like this Salvation Army has won them in recent years. I am going to pull off my coat and do some real work that will show where I stand when it comes to weighing the homely, unostentatious and highly practical relief methods of this amazing band of workers. I heard the call. The problems of the poor are there to be solved, and they can use my poor efforts perhaps, so I have answered the call."

"I won't do much talking in the coming drive. I will do real work, and when I do talk I don't want to talk to anyone but actual workers. There will be no speech making by me to those who might be curious to hear a former cabinet officer in action, but who are not interested in the work of the Salvation Army. I shall talk to workers and only to workers. The day for oratory in such matters has gone. We are down to brass tacks."

"I think I owe it as a citizen of America to show my understanding and appreciation of the helpful work the Salvation Army is doing in its rescue homes, maternity hospitals, free clinics, industrial homes, fresh air farms and tenement house relief work. My testimony is not needed, however, in this matter. There are 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 of young Americans who went into the recent war either unaware that the Salvation Army existed or having no use for its methods if they did know of it. So far as I can learn these men came out of that war unanimous on one subject—and that was that the Salvation Army understood the average man, knew how to deal with him and simply delivered the goods on the 100 per cent basis."

"There is no division of opinion on that one subject. There could have been no greater test for the Salvation Army than the test it received in the war. So after all I am merely adding my voice to the mighty chorus I have referred to when I say that the Salvation Army has long since won the right to make an appeal to the rest of us for its maintenance, and I am sure it will not make that appeal in vain."

"The Salvation Army one year ago abandoned its old custom of begging in the streets the year around so that its workers could devote all of their time and attention to the poor. It makes an annual appeal each May. Personally I know of no greater bulwark that could be raised against the rising tide of human unrest than to strengthen the hands of this band of self-sacrificing Christian toilers who have the confidence of all men and women, regardless of race, creed, color or position in life. I think it is important for the interests of our advancing civilization that such a practical and wholesome work be stimulated and maintained to the utmost."

"They say there are no 'down and outers' any more. Personally I do not believe it, or if I did believe it I would know that the abnormal times have swung the pendulum back too far on one side—and that it will swing far to the other side directly. There will always be a bottom to society. The poor will always be with us. We owe it to our fellow men to know our neighbor and share his troubles and problems, and only by that method can we, in all fairness and righteousness, keep the scales even in this life."

"I am proud to face the problems of the poor with the Salvation Army in such a trying hour, and I hope that American men and women will stand with me in the work ahead of us. But they must be workers. I shall have no time to entertain mere observers."

Both for the organization that gives aid and relief to the poor, and for the poor themselves, the high cost of living has been a troublesome factor in recent months. Money does not go far these days, but there is no man in the world who can get more satisfaction out of a dollar than the Salvation Army. In this country they gave away 3,000,000 meals in the last month ending last September. They provided 371,000 meals for the unemployed. They gave 1,181,547 night shelter and 1,496,687 extra night shelter. And in addition to all this, and to all that was done for thousands of the Army's institutions, they gave relief to 7,000,000 persons.

It Might Have Been a Dollar Ingersol But Sen. New Misses It

Famous Detective is Hired by Indiana Senator to Look For Thief Who Took Away His Timepiece—Senator From Colorado Wears a Wig And When He Discards It in The Spring, Off Comes All of The Senator's "Heavies"

Washington, March 27—William J. Burns dropped into the capitol the other day and got himself a job of detecting to do.

Sen. Harry New of Indiana had a gold watch. It wasn't much of a watch anymore as a time keeper, but New valued it as an heirloom.

Some dastardly thief up and stole it.

"I'll get it back for you and it won't cost you a cent," said Burns when New told him about it.

Watch this column for the rest of this thrilling detective yarn, which will appear as soon as Burns finds the time for New.

Speaking of losing time—as we were—the senate chaplain may get docked a day's pay if this congressional economy spasm becomes serious.

The other day the senate decided to meet at 11 a. m., an hour early. Promptly at 11 the gavel fell, but succeeding hush was not broken, as it usually is, by the chaplain's prayer.

For the chaplain's alarm clock had failed to get him up in time to conform to the senate's early rising schedule.

Next day the senate went back to its regular hour.

Senators are making up the annual betting pool on Charley Thomas' wig.

Thomas is a senator from Colorado.

do. He is bald. Summers he doesn't mind, but the nipping, eager air of Washington's fine southern winter climate (which is just like the fine northern winter climate of Medicine Hat or some place in Alaska) is a bit chilling. So in the fall Thomas thought turns to the old gray wig, and when he puts it on other senators don their "heavies."

The pool is made as to the date of the wig's removal. For on that day, spring arrives.

Amusements

"Man's Desire" Mystic Offering

Harold Lloyd is at the Mystic today in "The Rajah" and Lewis S. Stone in "Man's Desire," in which he gives a remarkably strong characterization of a "straight-shooter."

Tom Denton beat "Bull" Larkin on the draw, and these rough lumbermen knew "Bull" had it coming to him.

Border justice is demonstrated in a graphic way in this drama in which avastive men with courage in their veins settle personal misunderstandings in a primitive—though tragic way.

Monday there will be a comedy, "African Lions and American Beauties" and Bessie Barriscale, charming screen actress, portraying the role of a scrub girl when she made a trip from Los Angeles to New York to shop, will appear in "Hearts Asleep."

Arriving in New York she found that her sister had been taken suddenly and seriously ill, and that there was nobody else to step in and take charge of things.

So Miss Barriscale's shopping trip became a housekeeping expedition, although she did get time to run around to a few fashionable dressmakers and get a few new gowns to wear in her forthcoming screen productions.

When Louisville first heard of matches

In the early thirties of the nineteenth century, a lady of Louisville wrote to her cousin in New York:

"When I was in Richmond last winter I was told of a curious new device for making fire. It consisted of small splinters of wood with tips of some substance that burst into flame when rubbed on a rough surface. If you can procure some of them for me, I shall be grateful."

It was many years after matches were generally made in Europe before they were seen throughout America. There was no means for spreading rapidly such wonderful news. Today the new invention that contributes largely to comfort or convenience is quickly known in every section of the land. Advertisements bring the story. The farmer's wife of Idaho or Texas is quite as well posted as the city woman of the East.

Read the advertisements in your newspaper. They are the heralds of progress, the great news-spreading force of modern industry. They contain real news for you. They save you time and lessen your work and enable you to obtain better value for the money you spend.

Time spent in reading advertisements is well spent.

CENTER TOWNSHIP FARMERS TO MEET

Program is Arranged For Next
Wednesday Night When Important
Topic Will be Discussed

TO DISCUSS ORGANIZATION

The Center Township Farmers' Association will mix pleasure and business at their meeting, which will be held at the Center school house next Wednesday night at 7:30. Center township has a reputation for the excellent programs presented in connection with their business meetings, but the officers say the meeting next week is to be the best they have ever had.

The following program has been arranged and is expected to attract a large attendance.

Piano trio—Lois Trowbridge, Myrtle Trowbridge and Vera Bowles.
Recitation—Marry C. Huddelson.
Business Session.

Vocal Solo—Lee Mobitt.

Paper on "Child Welfare"—Mrs. Edd Rethford.

Vocal Duett—Leona Clark and Clarence Oldham.

The following men will give short talks on the subject, "One Thing The Farmers' Federation Should Strive to Accomplish": Fred McMannus, Claude Sears, John Gilson, Charles Brown, O. J. Reddick and Paul McDaniel. These talks will be followed by general discussion of the subjects introduced by the above speakers.

The business that is to come up at the meeting is of almost interest to every farmer in Center township and this fact with the excellent program which has been arranged, should bring every farmer to the meeting.

ANTI-LEAGUE PARTY IS BEING CONSIDERED

Plan is to Start Third Party With Ticket in Field That Would Oppose
The Covenant

BORAH'S NAME MENTIONED

Washington, Mar. 27.—An anti-league of nations party is being considered, it was learned today. The plan is to have placed on the state ticket a presidential candidate unless one of the old parties go on record as being opposed to the acceptance of the covenant.

The men behind the move have been trying for weeks to get Senator Borah to allow himself named as the candidate. He refused.

"I am not a candidate for president, and will not be so long as Senator Johnson, of California, is running for the republican nomination," he said today.

This was the only comment he gave on the anti-league party idea. Chicago, Boston, and New York City are the headquarters for the new party.

The move came out of the conviction of leaders that neither of the great parties adopted a platform declaring unqualifiedly against the league.

SHIPS BRING LABORERS

New York, Mar. 27.—Resumption of the pre-war-time immigration of laborers began in earnest today, when two Italian steamships arrived here with more than 3,500 passengers, 3,288 of whom were in the steerage. The liners were the Duca d'Aosta and the American, from Naples, Genoa and Palermo.

THE TEST THAT TELLS

There is only one real test for a cough remedy, and that is use. S. M. Oliver, Box 192, R. F. D. 3, Greensboro, S. C., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is just fine. I keep it all the time in my family and do not expect to be without it as long as I can get it." It relieves hay fever, asthma, coughs, colds, croup and bronchial affections by covering the inflamed, irritated surfaces with a soothing, healing combination of time-tried, reliable, pure harmless medicines. Contains no opiates. Children like it. P. B. Johnson.—(Adv.) 8

SCHMIDT SISTERS IN A FINE CONCERT

Sisters of Mrs. Fred Beale Entertainment at Newcastle Which is Warmly Praised

ASSISTED BY MRS. C. HAMMER.

The Newcastle Courier contains an account of an entertainment given in Newcastle recently when the Barbara and Maude Schmidt, sisters of Mrs. Fred Beale of this city, and Mrs. Mary Chandler Hammer, also of Newcastle, made their professional bow at the Methodist church, "to an enthusiastic audience that filled to overflowing the big auditorium."

"The program was most artistic in its arrangement and selection," continues the Courier. "There were numbers to satisfy every taste, from the classical to the simpler selections which are more generally appreciated by the average audience."

Concerning the Misses Schmidt, the Courier says: "The Misses Schmidt need no introduction to a Newcastle audience. Their talent has been an accepted fact for many years, but their appearance certainly added new laurels to their artistic reputation. The results of their splendid training and chautauqua work were apparent in every number and the reception of their efforts must have been most gratifying to the young women. The readings and musical monologues by Miss Barbara Schmidt were unusually clever and displayed to the utmost her versatility and charm as a dramatic artist. Miss Maude Schmidt, in both her solo work and accompanying, revealed wonderful interpretative ability and contributed materially to the tremendous success of the concert."

VIGILANCE IS A GOOD WATCHWORD

Bureau Known as Vigilance Committee Seeks to Pick Out Fraudulent Statements in Advertising

MAKES HONESTY SUPREME

Misleading Statements Injure Many Businesses and Really Don't Do Anyone Good

New York, March 27.—A higher standard of business practices, with an unmistakable spirit of honesty prevailing in all forms of advertising, characterizes every city in the United States in which a Better Business Bureau of an advertising club is found in operation, declares William P. Green, Associated Advertising Clubs, New York City.

These business bureaus supported by the local advertising club, and supervised by the Vigilance Committee of the national association, investigate and bring about the discontinuance of dishonest representation of every business organization in their district.

A review of the accomplishments of a few of the middlewestern bureaus for a brief period is given by Mr. Green as an example of ways in which these organizations improve business conditions.

A Minneapolis concern, advertising building material "at a great sacrifice," claimed that they were Government salvage. The Better Business Bureau of that city, found upon investigation that some of the materials had not been purchased from the Government. The advertiser was informed of the misleading idea he was giving his customers and agreed to eliminate the objectionable feature.

An Iowa concern, advertising patent ventilating windows as the only ones that could be "opened or closed from the inside of the building," promised to discontinue making this statement when the Iowa Better Business Bureau proved to the manager that several other manufacturers made similar windows.

A middle-western roofing-paper company used the word "factories" in its trade name, although it neither owns or operates a factory. Contending that the fraudulent use of this term made for unfair competition among those engaged in a similar business, the Better Business Bureau obtained the promise of the advertiser and his attorney to eliminate the word "factories" from its trade name.

The files of the Associated Advertising Clubs, New York City, embrace almost countless cases like these, in all lines of business, which have been growing in number ever since the vigilance work began.

Experience of business men, says Mr. Green, is demonstrating that truthful advertising, the association has found it is usually due to the fact that the advertiser takes this means for covering up his inability to prepare attractive advertising copy.

A Grateful Woman's Story

Mrs. Robert Blair, 461 S. 20th St. Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble. After taking Foley Kidney Pills a few short weeks I found my trouble gradually disappearing. The back aches stopped and I am also free from those tired spells and headaches, and my vision is no longer blurred." Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys keep the blood clean and eliminate the impurities that cause backache, rheumatic pains, sore stiff and swollen joints and muscles. F. B. Johnson. —(Adv.)

"BATTLE OF THE BLUES" RESUMED

Oxford and Cambridge Clash in a Boat Race Today After an Interval of Six Years

TEAMS ARE EVENLY MATCHED.

Race Rowed Over Four-and-a-Half-Mile Course Between Putney Bridge and Mortlake

London, March 27.—Thames-side paths and bridges west of Putney once more re-echoed with shouts of "Oxford" or "Cambridge", according to the sympathies of many thousands of excited spectators, when the annual aquatic "Battle of the Blues" was resumed today, after an interval of six years, due to the war.

Today's is the seventy-first boat-race between the Universities, the score standing: Oxford 38, Cambridge 31, and one dead heat (1877). The race is rowed over the historic four-and-a-half-mile course between Putney Bridge and Mortlake, and long before the hour scheduled for starting, the tow-ropes and other vantage-spots were packed to the limit, and the police had a hard task keeping a path for traffic across the half-dozen bridges along the route. The fleet of steamers and river craft to follow the race was bigger than ever, and the numerous riverside residences, lawns and impromptu grand-stands accommodated huge crowds.

The psychology of an Oxford and Cambridge boat-race is curious, for people who hardly know an outrigger from a bargeman's ferry are intensely interested in the eighteen university students sporting the light and dark blue college colors. Many have only vague ideas as to the location of Oxford and Cambridge, and certainly not one in a thousand could handle a racing oar but the contest is recognized as one in which pure sport triumphs. There are no prizes for the winners.

Owing to the suspension of rowing during the war, there was very little data or "form" on which to judge the merits of the two crews but Cambridge has the heavier crew and expert watermen were disposed to favor them. The women, of course, mostly sported light blue favors, as being more suited to spring costumes, but Oxford had plenty of supporters.

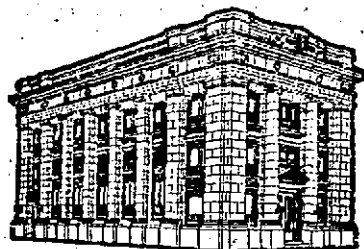

On the last occasion, in 1914, Cambridge won. The record time for the course is 18 mins. 29 sec., by Oxford in 1911. In 1912 both boats sank in rough water, and the race had to be rowed again a few days later.

HELD IN REED MURDER

Los Angeles, Mar. 27.—A man the police said had been seen frequently with Mrs. Ruby Reed, a young divorcee, was under arrest today in connection with the finding of Mrs. Reed's body in her apartment last night. She had been garroted with one of her undergarments and a man's handkerchief was stuffed in her mouth.

Pig With Five Legs is Born On D. O. After Farm D. D. Alter of near Gowdy reported this morning that he had a freak pig which was born yesterday afternoon. The animal has five legs, the fifth one being on the right fore leg. It is slightly smaller than the others but is well developed. Mr. Alter stated that the pig is as healthy and as spry as the others of the litter.
